The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday April 27, to Tuesday April 30, 1782.

Whitehall, April 30, 1782.

THE following are Extracts of Letters received at the Office of the Earl of Shelburne, One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, the 25th Instant.

Extract of a Letter from Major-General Shirley, Captain General and Governor in Chief of the Leeward Caribbee Islands, dated St. Christopher's, February 15, 1782.

I AM extremely mortified at being obliged to inform your Lordship, that the Islands of St Christopher and Nevis, having been attacked by a powerful Fleet and Army, under the Command of the Marquis de Bouillé, were compelled to surrender to the French Arms on the 12th of February instant, after a Siege of about Five Weeks, upon the Terms of a Capitulation, which I have the Honour to send inclosed to your Lordship.

ARTICLES of CAPITULATION for the Islands of Saint Christopher and Nevis, between his Excellency the Count de Grasse, Commander of his Most Christian Majesty's Fleet, and his Excellency the Marquis de Bouille, Commander in Chief of the French Windward Islands in America, and his Excellency Thomas Shirley, Esquire, a Major-General in His Britannic Majesty's Army, and Governor of the Islands of Saint Christopher and Nevis, and Thomas Fraser, Esquire, a Brigadier-General, and Commanding Officer of the Troops.

Article I.

THE Governor, the Commander of the Troops, and the Officers and Soldiers, the Officers of the Militia, and Privates, shall march out of the Garrison of Brimstone Hill through the Breach, with One Mortar, Two Field Pieces, with Ten Rounds to each Piece, Arms, Baggage, and all other Honours of War, and shall afterwards lay down their Arms, the Officers excepted.

Article II. The Regular Troops shall be made Prisoners of War, and sent to England in safe and good Vessels, with Provisions for their Voyage; but shall not serve against the King of France until they shall be exchanged.

All Officers may remain in these Islands upon their Parole.

All Privates of Militia and armed Negroes shall return to their respective Homes.

Article III. The Inhabitants, or their Attornies, shall be obliged to take the Oaths of Allegiance to the French King, in the Presence of the Governor of the said Islands, within the Space of One Month; and such as may not be able, from Sickness or any other substantial Cause, to comply within the said Term of Time, shall be allowed a reasonable Delay.

Article IV. They shall observe a strict Neutrality, and shall not be obliged to take up Arms against His Britannick Majesty, or any other Power. They shall preserve their Arms to keep good Order among their Negroes; but they shall be obliged to report them to the Justices of the Peace, who shall be answerable for the bad Use that may be made of them against the Tenor of this Capitulation.

Article V. They shall be allowed, until Time of Peace, their own Laws, Custom and Usages, and Justice shall be administered by all Persons in their present respective Offices.

All Expences attending the Administration of Justice shall be at the Charge of the Colony.

Article VI. The Court of Chancery shall be held by the present Councellors, and in the same Form; and the Appeals from the said Court shall be made to the Council of his Most Christian Majesty.

Article VII. The Inhabitants and Clergy shall be maintained in the full Possession of their Properties of every Kind; in their Privileges, Rights, Honours and Exemptions; in the Possession of their Religion; and all Ministers in the Enjoyment of their Livings.

All Absentees, and those immediately in the Service of His Britannic Majesty, shall be protected in the Possession and Enjoyment of their different Properties, left under the Care of their Attornies.

The Inhabitants shall be allowed to sell their Properties to whomsoever they judge proper, and be permitted to send their Children to England for Education, from whence they shall have Liberty to return.

Article VIII. Instead of all Taxes, the Inhabitants shall pay into the Hands of the Treasurer of the Troops, every Month, the Amount of Two Thirds of the Taxes which the Inhabitants of the Island of Saint Christopher and it's Dependencies pay to the King of Great Britain, according to a Valuation that shall be made of the Revenues of the Colony in 1781, which shall be the Basis.

Article IX. The Slaves that have been taken during the Siege shall be religiously restored, and the Inhabitants shall be allowed to reclaim them in any of the French Windward or Leeward Islands.

Article X. The Inhabitants shall not be obliged to furnish Quarters for the Troops, unless in Cases of Emergency; but they are to be lodged at the King's Expence, or in Houses belonging to the Crown.

Article XI. In case Negroes shall be required to carry on Public Works, they shall be furnished by the Inhabitants to the Amount of Five Hundred.

Article XII. All Vessels and Coasters belonging to the Inhabitants at the Time of Capitulation shall be restored entire to their Owners. The Shipping that is expected by the Inhabitants from the English Ports, or the Dominions of His Britannic Majesty, shall be received in these Islands during the Term of

[Price Seven-Pence.]

of Six Months; and they may be diſpatched back again, under Neutral Colours, even to England itſelf, with the particular Permiſſion of the Governor; and if the Shipping above-mentioned ſhall anchor in the Harbour of any Engliſh Iſland, the Governor will be authorized to ſend them Permiſſion to come to this Iſland.

Article XIII. The Inhabitants and Merchants ſhall enjoy all the Privileges of Commerce granted to the Inhabitants of his Moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, through the full Extent of his Dominions.

Article XIV. Whatever may have been provided for the French Army during the Siege, and to this Day, by the ſaid Iſlands, and Loſſes that the Inhabitants have ſuſtained by the burning of their Plantations, and by every other Means, ſhall be eſtimated by a Meeting of the Inhabitants, and the Amount ſhall be equally borne by the Two Iſlands, under the Head of a Contribution or Indemnity againſt the Expence of the War, but in ſuch a Manner that this Article ſhall not diminiſh the Taxes above-mentioned, which are to take Place from the Date of the Capitulation; but the Aſſembly of the Inhabitants may apply to it the Arrears of the General Taxes, which remain in their Hands at the Date of the Capitulation.

Article XV. All Sailors belonging to Merchant Veſſels and Privateers, and other Perſons having no Property in the ſaid Iſlands, ſhall quit them in the Space of Six Weeks, unleſs they are employed in Droghers, or in the Service of Proprietors that will be anſwerable for their Conduct, and they ſhall be furniſhed with Means of Conveyance to Neutral Ports.

Article XVI. All the Artillery and Stores of the ſaid Iſland belonging to His Britannic Majeſty, Powder, Small Arms, Ammunition, and Veſſels in the King's Service, ſhall be given up to the Commander of the French Troops, and the Inventory of them preſented to the Governor.

Article XVII. In Conſideration of the ſteady and ſpirited Behaviour of his Excellency General Shirley, and General Fraſer, we agree that the Former may return to his Government, and that the other is at Liberty to ſerve, being happy to ſhew theſe brave Officers this Teſtimony of our particular Eſteem.

St. Chriſtopher's, the Twelfth Day of February, One thouſand ſeven hundred and eighty-two.

(Signed) Le Marquis de Bouille. (Signed) Thomas Shirley. Thomas Fraſer.

Article XVIII. It is agreed that the Planters and Inhabitants, with Permiſſion from the Governor, will be allowed to export their Product, in Neutral Veſſels, to any Engliſh Port in Europe or America.

Extract of Letter from Brigadier-General Fraſer, dated St. Chriſtopher's, February 14, 1782.

I AM extremely ſorry to inform you, that, with the Opinion of the Engineer, the Commanding Officer of the Artillery, and the Reſt of the Officers of the Garriſon, I was under the painful Neceſſity to ſurrender the few remaining Troops under my Command at the Poſt of Brimſtone Hill, by Capitulation, on the 12th Inſtant, to the French Troops commanded by the Marquis De Bouille.

On the 9th of January 28 French Ships of the Line, with ſeveral Frigates and Tranſports, appeared off this Iſland; on the 11th they ſtood in for the Road of Baſſeterre, and that Evening landed 8000 Troops, with a formidable Train of Artillery. Finding the Enemy's Force bore every Appearance of being very ſuperior to the few Troops I had for the Defence of this Iſland, I judged it prudent to withdraw my Out-Poſts; and being joined by General Shirley, with a Detachment of the Militia of the Iſland, from Baſſeterre, I took Poſt on Brimſtone Hill on the 11th.

On the 11th and 12th the Enemy compleatly inveſted and blockaded the Garriſon; their Right taking Poſt in the Town of Sandy Point, and their Left at Godwin's Gut. They immediately advanced their Piquets within 500 Yards of Brimſtone Hill, to cut off our Communication with the Country; and likewiſe detached Corps to Baſſeterre and the Town of Old Road; in ſhort (Brimſtone Hill excepted) the Enemy were in full Poſſeſſion of the Iſland, and in ſuch a Poſition as to prevent us every Means of Succour, unleſs the Britiſh Squadron ſhould be ſuperior at Sea.

In this Situation I prepared to make the beſt Defence poſſible. The Ground we were on muſt be acknowledged to be very ſtrong by Nature, and againſt an immediate Attack by Aſſault. I am confident we ſhould have proved invulnerable, but the Fortifications were very old, and in a ruinous State, and by no Means equal to ſtand the Fire from ſuch heavy Batteries as opened during the Siege.

In the Night of the 16th of January the Enemy began to break Ground at Somerfall's Eſtate, diſtant 500 Yards on the North Weſt Side, and at Rawlins's Eſtate on the Old Road Side; and in the Morning of the 19th they opened a Battery of Six Mortars from Rawlins's. From that Day the Fire from the Enemy increaſed daily on us, new Batteries frequently opening; and for the laſt Three Weeks they were conſtantly, Night and Day, bombarding and cannonading the Garriſon, and with ſuch Effect, that, early in the Siege, every Cover on the Hill, the Store containing all the Rum, the Arſenal, and the Artillery-Store, and Part of the Proviſion-Store, were conſumed or torn to Pieces by the Fire from Cannon. The latter Part of the Siege almoſt all the Guns were either diſmounted or diſabled, and the Works on the North-Weſt Side was an entire and perfect Breach. I muſt add, the Want of Entrenching Tools was ſeverely felt; there was not any Proviſion of the Kind made, which put it out of our Power to make any Repairs or Retrenching within, which was ſo neceſſary againſt an Aſſault, when ſuch conſiderable Breaches were made in the Works; and when it was ſo well known by the Enemy that our Decreaſe of Troops in the Garriſon was very conſiderable, we had Reaſon to look for every Moment.

Under all theſe Circumſtances, after a Siege of Five Weeks, Thirty-four Days ſince the Enemy's Batteries began to open, moſt of which Time we received Fire from 24 Mortars and 23 Pieces of heavy Artillery againſt a Spot of Ground where the greateſt Diameter is not more than 200 Yards, the whole of the Garriſon, from the great Decreaſe by Killed, Wounded, Sick, and Deſertion, being obliged to be under Arms every Night, which harraſſed and fatigued them ſo much that I thought it would have been wanting in Humanity to have riſked the Lives of the ſmall Body of gallant Soldiers that had behaved with ſuch Fidelity and Courage during the Siege, to have ſubjected them to an Aſſault, which, from the ſuperior Numbers of the Enemy, (the Duty Men in the Garriſon not exceeding 500 Men) could not fail to ſucceed.

Notwithſtanding the Event has proved unfortunate, I ſhould be wanting in doing Juſtice to the Troops under my Command, if I concluded without ſaying, saying, that both Officers and Soldiers deserve the highest Commendation: Under a constant Fire of Shot and Shells Night and Day (that I doubt has in any Instance ever been exceeded) the Officers shewed a constant and universal Chearfulness, and, by their Example, the Soldiers bore the greatest Fatigue with a Firmness that deserves my warmest Acknowledgements.

I transmit you Returns of our Killed and Wounded, and have the Pleasure to add, that during the Siege we lost but One Man by Desertion of the King's Troops.

Captain Robertson, of the 15th, will have the Honour to deliver you this Dispatch. He acted as Deputy Quarter-master-General during the Siege, and is well qualified to explain every Particular relating to the Siege.

Return of Killed, Wounded, and Missing of the Troops under the Command of Brigadier General Fraser, from the 10th of January to the 12th of February, 1782.

Extract of a Letter from Vice-Admiral Milbanke to Mr. Stephens, dated Plymouth, April 28, 1782.

I HAVE the Satisfaction to acquaint you, for their Lordships Information, that His Majesty's Ship Latona arrived here late last Night, and Captain Conway brings the agreeable Intelligence of his having, in Company with the Queen last Monday, South of Scilly, fallen in with the French Ship l'Actionnaire, armé en Flute, which struck to the latter. She has Eleven Chests of Dutch Silver on Board, and also Lower Masts for Four Seventy-fours, with Sails and Rigging complete, besides her own Masts, which were intended for the Hannibal.

Captain Conway farther informs me, that on Thursday last, about Ten Leagues South of Scilly, he fell in with and took a French Lugger named Le Barnardine, mounting Fourteen Guns, and also retook a Scotch Lugger of Ten Guns, which she had captured.
